

Collaboration between universities and the Scottish Institute for Enterprise to keep student's skill
sets fit for the future

Chris Moule
Head of Entrepreneurship
and Innovation Group

Dr Pauline A M Bremner
Teaching Excellence Fellow

Outline of case study

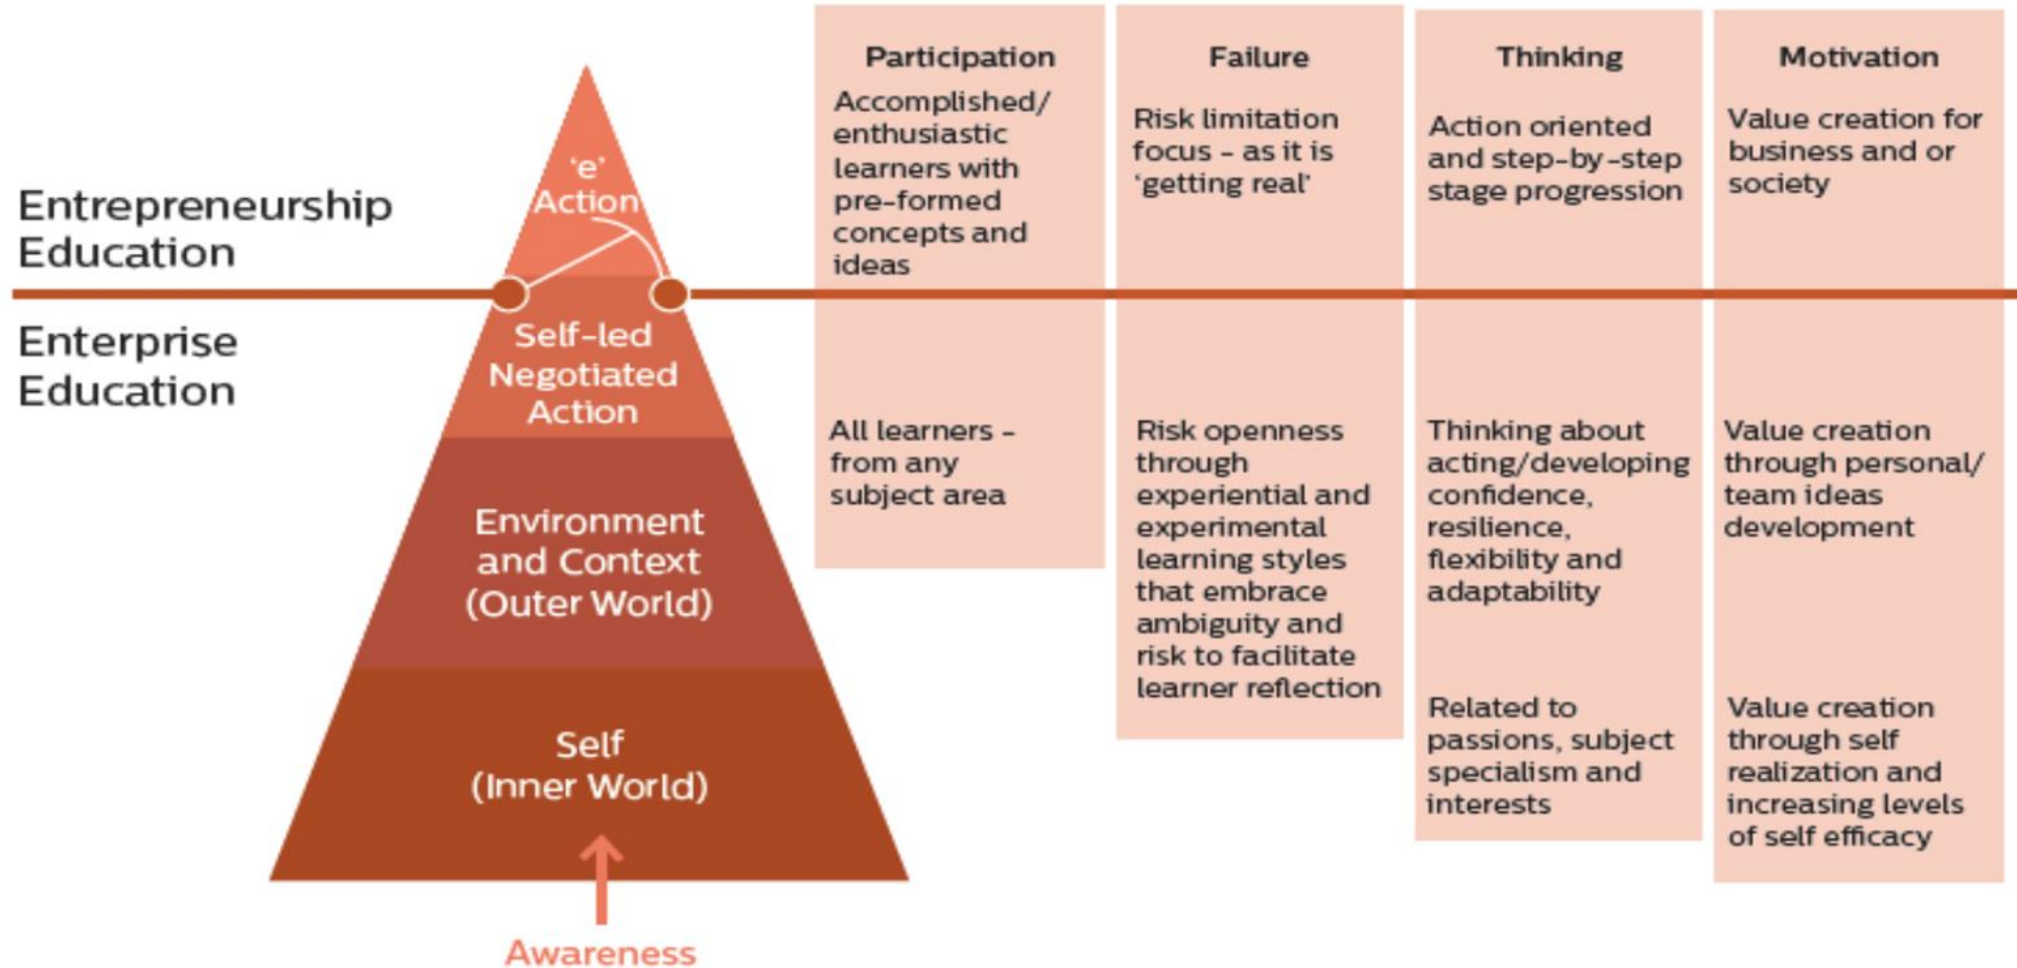

- SISA Programme
- How we have embedded it into RGU
- Benefits of this Collaboration

Keeping students' skills sets work ready is a challenge for all universities within their degree programmes.

SISA Scottish Innovative Student Awards

SISA

SISA certified
Level 1

sie

SISA certified
Level 2

sie

SISA certified
Level 3

sie

scottish institute for enterprise sie

How we have embedded it into RGU

- Fast track workshops

- Accredited modules

SISA scottish institute for enterprise sie

Robert Gordon University
Scottish Institute for Enterprise (SIE)
Scottish Innovative Student Awards (SISA)
Level 1 Accreditation Application

Please read the Terms and Conditions before completing

Name of institution Your name and contact information	Robert Gordon University Click here to enter text.
This is the name that will appear on the accreditation certificate.	Click here to enter text.
Course/Module/Workshop to be accredited Please state if the course is curriculum or co-curriculum	Click here to enter text.

RGU ABERDEEN

Benefits of in house accreditation and benefits to students

Robert Gordon University student participants in SISA
2019-20:

SISA LEVEL 1: 379

FUTURE THINKERS

SISA LEVEL 2: 57

INNOVATION CATALYSTS

SISA LEVEL 3: 18

INNOVATION CHAMPIONS

"I learned the importance of working with a culturally diverse group. My group consisted of a range of individuals from the UK and Europe. Each had a perspective and experience which gave us an encompassing viewpoint for the task. Looking to the future this represents how globalised the modern world is; and how significant and important it is for a business to consider multiple cultures and ideologies, especially when considering expanding. This project has allowed me to consider different cultures and viewpoints. Applying this to my future business will allow me to avoid potential risks in this globalised world."

- 4th Year Student, Robert Gordon University

NEVER STOP LEARNING,
BECAUSE LIFE
NEVER STOPS TEACHING

WWW.LIVELIFEHAPPY.COM

